We have industry expertise gathered over 15 years, with 250 customer-focused team members. We pride ourselves on our customer experience, putting businesses nationwide at the forefront of our work.

No matter what you need, we have the solution for you. We work with businesses to ensure their print, IT and telecom needs are met - leaving businesses to focus on the important things.

Industry Experts

Aurora are on hand to provide industry knowledge.

As a company built on trust, we know it's important to our customers to be heard and answered as soon as possible. This is why we employ many passionate and knowledgeable engineers, account managers and customer service staff who are empathetic to a variety of needs. We have a lot of industry knowledge that we want to share and aspire to make print management, IT services and telecom provision easy for businesses to access.

No matter what you need - we've got you covered at Aurora

Managed Print Services

We work with multiple vendors and partners, like Konica Minolta, Ricoh, Canon and more, adapting to your business needs, from hybrid working to office-based solutions. We create bespoke print management packages that transform your business. Working with many vendors gives us the choice of the latest print fleet technologies that can help you to manage and upscale, to optimise your document output.

Professional Services

Our Professional Services Team can take your document management and storage to the top of its game with our printing and scanning workflows that help to reduce your paper usage, costs and help you to support green initiatives. We partner with File Director, Docuware, Uniflow, Papercut and more to offer you a holistic approach to your printing needs. Our Professional Services team are highly qualified and are never short of an answer to manage your office effectively.

Telecoms

Step up your telecommunications game with our unified communication services such as web and video conferencing packages from Gamma or Microsoft Teams. We can also keep your hybrid and office workforce connected at all times with telephony hardware such as desk phones or mobiles from mixed networks, like EE, O2 and Vodaphone, all on the same

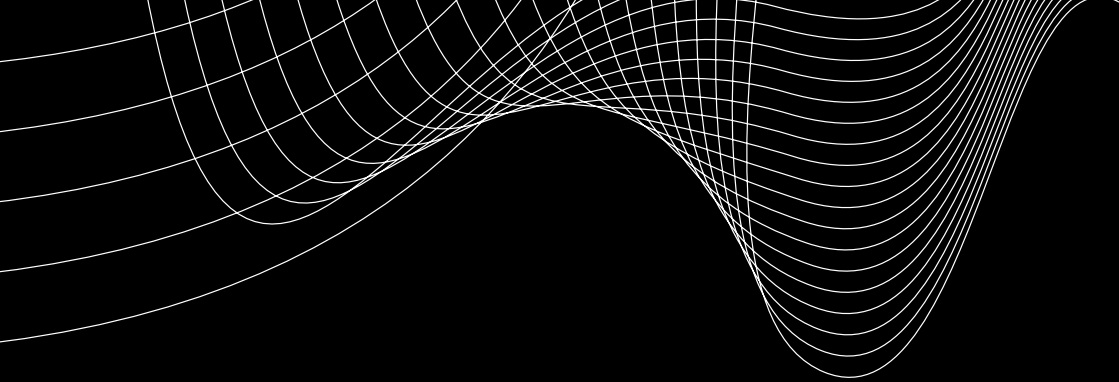

IT

Have you thought about securely moving your data to the Cloud yet? With our managed VoIP, Data and IT services, we will make sure your data is safely stored and easily accessible with our extensive range of data services offering more connectivity and functionalities than legacy systems. From disaster recovery and server solutions to hosted cloud solutions and cyber security, being on top of the IT game can save you hundreds of £'s in the long run. When your data is safe, so is the future of your business.

Customer Services
