Aurora Managed Services acquire Right Digital Solutions

LONDON, 8th September 2025: Aurora Managed Services ('Aurora'), today announce the acquisition of Right Digital Solutions, a leading workplace technology solutions provider. The two organisations will combine to create one of the UK's largest independent providers of managed services for print and document workflow, telecoms and IT services.

Founded in 1988 by Chairman Paul Gillett, Right Digital Solutions ('RDS') has built a highly respected reputation as a provider of technology solutions that help organisations achieve transformation. With a portfolio that includes managed print, managed IT, managed communications and managed data insight, RDS is a key partner to many major organisations in the private and public sector.

Robin Stanton-Gleaves, Aurora Chairman said "RDS is a very exciting acquisition for Aurora and the first step in our significant future growth plans. Paul has created and led an organisation that has an enviable business reputation, and I am delighted to welcome their customers and staff to Aurora. Aurora's outstanding managed services offerings will be complemented by the addition of RDS' technical expertise and service excellence, and I am looking forward to leveraging the synergies and best of breed from both organisations to become the market-leading independent provider of managed workplace technology."

Paul Gillett, Chairman of RDS commented "From the very beginning, my focus has been on delivering exceptional service. That principle still runs through the RDS business today, and our reputation as an industry leader is down to the dedication and hard work our team puts in every single day. I strongly believe that the combination of Aurora's scale and infrastructure with RDS's technical expertise, customer focus, and determination will create a major force in the workplace technology marketplace."

The two organisations share many values and a commitment to delivering superior levels of service. The pro-active managed services Aurora have developed will remain a key focus for the new enlarged Aurora company, playing a critical role in future growth, and giving the scale and reach to become the number one independent choice for managed services in the UK.

Ends.
